

World Heart Day Celebration 2017 - Theme "Art in the Heart"

In conjunction with World Heart Day 2017 celebrations, IJN has organised internal and external exhibitions to showcase IJN's facilities and services to the public.

For the entire month of September, the celebration was held at IJN's Main Lobby. Here, the public had a chance to learn about heart diseases and ways of prevention as well as get to know about IJN's interventional and diagnostic procedures and the various heart screening packages and services available at IJN. The main objective is to create awareness of World Heart Day and share the knowledge on preventive of heart disease.

IJN also extended the educational experience and promotional opportunities outside its premises through a celebration at Paradigm Mall. A "mini IJN" have been set up here to give the public a better idea of the IJN experience of excellent care, showcasing mock-up of the operating theatre and private clinic with range of services.
